KANSAS LEGISLATIVE INSIGHTS NEWSLETTER | FEBRUARY 3, 2025

WEEK FOUR: REMEMBERING FLIGHT 5342, HONORING KANSAS' BIRTHDAY, AND FAST-TRACKING THE "HELP NOT HARM" BILL

Our hearts go out to the victims and families affected by the tragic crash of American Airlines Flight 5342 from Wichita, Kan., to Washington, D.C. We extend our deepest condolences to those who lost loved ones and offer our support to all affected. May they find strength and comfort in this difficult time.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, KANSAS!

The Statehouse celebrated Kansas' 164th birthday with historical reenactors and the unveiling of a new mural honoring suffragists. Kansas lawmakers felt the need to fast-track legislation by bypassing traditional procedures. As legislative deadlines approach, key debates on taxation, election laws, and public health policies take center stage.

KANSAS DAY AND NEW STATEHOUSE MURAL

Gov. Laura Kelly, legislators, and visitors celebrated Kansas' 164th birthday on Jan. 29 at the State Capitol. The event featured 1800s period reenactors, a singing of "Happy Birthday" and "Home on the Range," and specially decorated cakes honoring statehood and Kansas symbols.

As part of the celebration, officials unveiled a new Statehouse mural on the first floor. The League of Women Voters of Kansas, Gov. Kelly, and artist Phyllis J. Garibay-Coon of Manhattan presented the artwork, which honors Kansas suffragists' fight for women's voting rights and the passage of the 19th Amendment.

Legislation passed in 2022 directed the Capitol Preservation Committee to approve plans for a permanent memorial to Kansas suffragists. The committee oversees all renovations of the Capitol, Visitor Center, and surrounding grounds to preserve historical integrity and ensure artistic displays are historically significant.

No public funds were used for the mural. The League of Women Voters of Kansas raised the necessary funding.

'HELP NOT HARM' BILL ON FAST TRACK

In an unprecedented sprint, the Kansas Legislature pushed Senate Bill 63 from introduction to final approval in just three days, setting up a high-stakes showdown with Gov. Kelly.

Timeline of the Fast-Tracked Bill

- Jan. 28, 2025 (Tuesday)
The Senate and House Public Health and Welfare committees held hearings on similar bills.
- Jan. 29, 2025 (Wednesday)
The Senate Public Health and Welfare Committee recommended the bill's passage with amendments. Later that day, the Senate passed the bill 32-8, immediately adopting the committee report and advancing it to final action — an emergency procedure used to expedite legislation.
- Jan. 30, 2025 (Thursday)
The House received the bill and referred it directly to the Committee of the Whole, bypassing standard committee review. After more than two hours of debate, House Republicans rejected eight Democratic amendments and moved the bill to final action.
- Jan. 31, 2025 (Friday)
???The House approved the bill 83-35 on final action, falling one vote short of a veto-proof supermajority because four Republican members were absent.

Lawmakers bypassed traditional procedures to accelerate SB 63's passage. Instead of a House committee review, they sent the bill directly to the Committee of the Whole, ensuring a floor debate within 24 hours. The bill swiftly cleared both chambers, fueling controversy over the legislative process.

The bill now heads to Gov. Kelly, who vetoed a similar measure in 2024. While the Senate has enough votes to override a veto, the House needs one more. Republican leaders may attempt an override vote if all members are present.

With this swift action, Kansas joins a growing number of states enacting restrictions on gender-affirming care. Currently, 27 states have laws limiting access.
